Quality and Purity Guarantee

For over 30 years, Metagenics has led the nutraceutical industry in research and quality manufacturing to make natural approaches even safer and more effective. We devote the necessary resources to verify ingredient safety, ensure proper ingredient form, and test for purity and quality at multiple steps. In fact, Metagenics was one of the first companies in our industry to achieve three independent certifications for Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP)—from the NNFA, NSF, and TGA.

Metagenics formulas undergo extensive third-party analyses to verify optimal purity. Every batch of fish oil is tested by Eurofins— one of the top independent testing labs in the world—to check for numerous contaminants (e.g., heavy metals, pesticides).

Unsurpassed Freshness

Metagenics marine oils are a concentrated, purified source of pharmaceutical-grade omega-3 fatty acids from sustainably sourced, cold-water fish. The purification technologies used exceed the highest international standards.

Antioxidant Stabilized

For added protection against oxidation and rancidity, Metagenics marine oil formulas contain natural antioxidants like mixed tocopherols. Careful handling and temperature- controlled storage also help protect volatile oils to deliver premium quality and taste.

Sustainable Sourcing

Metagenics marine oils come from fisheries that practice sustainable fishing to help protect the species and their oceanic environments. All fish (e.g., salmon, anchovy, mackerel) and calamari are wild-caught in cold waters and carefully processed for multiple uses (e.g., food) to minimize waste of valuable natural resources.

Superior Taste

Cleaner oils mean better taste. Metagenics marine oils start with exceptional quality oils to deliver a higher degree of purity you can actually taste. Natural citrus and fruit flavours further enhance palatability and promote compliance in patients of all ages.
